Ryan S. Luft, an Associate, is a member of the Dispute Resolution & Litigation practice group. His practice focuses on resolving commercial and general business disputes. He has represented clients in a variety of litigation matters in state and federal courts.

Prior to joining Tuggle Duggins in May, 2006, Ryan practiced with Dickstein Shapiro Morin & Oshinsky, LLP, in New York and Washington, DC, concentrating on insurance coverage litigation. He also worked as an associate with Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP.

Ryan received his law degree from Boston University School of Law in 2001, where he completed a concentration, with honors, in Intellectual Property law. He also served as a teaching assistant for the first year writing program, as a director of the J. Newton Esdaile Appellate Moot Court Program, and as a Technical Editor of the Journal of Science & Technology Law. Ryan received his undergraduate degree, cum laude, from Binghamton University, State University of New York, in 1996. Along with North Carolina, Ryan is admitted to practice in New York, the District of Columbia, and Massachusetts (inactive).

Ryan has contributed his services to pro bono representation and activities.
